Once upon a time, there was a little girl called Katherine. Katherine’s father died when she was two years old. She lived with her mother. They were very poor.

On Katherine’s eighth birthday, her mother wanted to give her a present. She thought that a cake would be a good present. So, her mother took all of her money to buy a quarter of cake.

At the same time, Katherine wanted to do something to thank her mother for loving her all the time, so she took all of her money to buy some flowers.

On the way, Katherine lost her money. She looked everywhere, but she could not find the money. Then, she started crying. Suddenly, an old man came. He asked, “Why are you crying?” Then, Katherine told him everything.

Actually, the old man was a fairy. “Don’t worry,” he said. “I will help you.” The old man gave Katherine a magic hat.
You could take anything you liked from the hat. Katherine didn’t know if it was true, so she put her hand in the hat and—POOF! Katherine took some beautiful flowers from it!

She felt very happy and she said, “Thank you!” Next, she ran home and told her mother about the magic hat.

Soon, Katherine became rich, but she never forgot to help people with her magic hat. Now, she lives with her mother happily everyday!
